Dubai

In this design proposal for Villa 103, we have preserved the existing mature palm trees to maintain the site's character while introducing a fresh and distinctive landscape design. The front garden adopts an English formal style with clean, geometrical lines, creating a structured and elegant entrance experience. In contrast, the rear garden transitions into a more relaxed, tropical atmosphere, complementing the sea view and featuring a large swimming pool.

Our approach begins with preserving the core elements that define the garden's character: the existing pool with its cladding and water features, as well as the mature feature trees, which provide a strong sense of identity. Around these, we propose a more curated planting scheme that brings cohesion and vitality to the space. A key addition will be a Zen garden surrounding the olive trees.

Our design approach for Villa, Palm Jumeirah, centers on cultivating a vibrant tropical ambiance, leveraging its prime beachfront location and the existing majestic palm trees. To achieve this, we've prioritized both aesthetic appeal and functional enhancements. The front garden is transformed into a tropical sanctuary, separated by a gate, while the south side of the garage is opened up, seamlessly merging it with the surrounding landscape.
